

War Bureaus May Have Some Time to Run Yet: Congress Hasn't Said War Is Over

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Aug. 27—(UPI)—How long will the government keep its wartime powers and agencies? That's the question which you may be asking yourself.

No. 1 to remember is this: The war itself has not been declared. No. 2 is that Congress or the president and probably won't be for some time.

What we do know is this: his V-day proclamation it won't be official statement that the war was over. Most likely say we have been victorious over our enemies without ever saying the war's over.

But for the duration of the war—and that's a matter of emergency—Congress set up special law and PBIB, and gave the president special wartime powers.

At present, we think we are still in a period of national emergency. Right after announcing that the war was over, Mr. Truman said we face "an emergency" as regards the war that on the day of Pearl Harbor.

The reason: The next six months are to be spent in getting things under control.

It is important we make the transition to peace smoothly, trying to keep the economy from crashing down, and to ration things still more.

In international laws wars end when treaties of peace are signed and when hostilities cease. But at any time could declare the war is over. That's what we do.

"Although many of the wartime laws are still in effect, the war, that doesn't mean the government will try to use them officially."

But they will be wiped out—for all practical use as long as they last. For instance:

Daylight saving time, for example, is supposed to continue for another month after the war is over.

As soon as the reasons for change this, to turn the clocks back again and return us to Standard time.

He's another. Under the war laws, the government is empowered to seize private property.

That's why the reason such as the seizure strike with the war.

Armed forces, too, but Saturday night Mr. Truman ordered the seized plants of 24 firms to be turned over to their owners.

He thought the reasons were good enough for the government to hold them in wartime no longer existed.

It's not the right make it seem that the president was giving up his powers.

One official claimed returning American sailors would be given souvenirs for the council's new headache. Only yesterday, he said, he heard that he had better leave a neighbor's son had struck him with a "boomerang."

CANT' BE WATER
WATER! WASH., Aug. 28—(UPI)—Don't breathe it if the ex-service man who started out as a chemist in Kansas State College is still there.

He's been ordered to return to normal peacetime living during this emergency.

As we go along—and before the president probably will say for certain that this is that special wartime.

Meantime, wartime agencies will disappear; their usefulness ended.

For example, the power to fix prices was given authority to fix prices.

As we go along, the office of censorship will fold up, and almost checked out during the return to normal peacetime living.

Police Officer Kenneth Ulrey saved the day with a team gas tank skunk checked out and for keeps.

NO ROOM

Olympia, Wash., Aug. 28—(UPI)—A woman who had been unable to find a room in her town because she was a widow, found a home in a hotel.

She had hard how to get rid of it.

The owl, she says, eats a half dozen red points—and she hasn't got any more.

American Occupation Troops Assigned to Japan Have Won Experience by the Hard Way

By DOWDIE MCKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The world is fortunate in that the American forces occupying Japan are seasoned veterans who have earned down to the ranks their proper men.

Our success is in reforming the Japs and making good jobs.

Our strength is in the initial contact between these foreign troops ever to set foot on the Mikado's domains as conquerors.

Our unknown is the unknown, for while Japanese officials are apt to be apathetic, the American soldiers' spirit of occupation yesterday yet nobody knows what the people of Japan will respond to.

Thus far it appears that the Japanese are not yet fully aware of the full weight their country is bearing.

That's why the relationship established in the early days of the occupation is vital.

Black Markets Crumble as Civilian Production Begins to Move Into Trade Channels

By MAX HALL

HOPE, Ark., Aug. 28.—(P)—Black markets were crumbling into thin air today because more peaceful times were with us.

Black markets, prices, used cars,

new cars, chickens, toys, and big subjects for Americans exactly two years after Japan threw the sponge.

Government officials added that black markets will fall away in all fields as shortages ease up because the market price is less than the legal price.

That was the main news about the economy this morning.

On used cars, they have finally started down, they will be at about the same levels as in 1942

says OPA.

And in general, an army of retailers invaded Washington to protest that the OPA is trying to turn the price of cars down.

But indications, the OPA replied was to be a flat "no."

As the retail spokesmen met with

OPA, the OPA's rule that prices will not go up again in wartime was made at $1 or near 1942 levels. In many instances the OPA's rules are being broken fast.

Some more developments in the nation's ponderous progress. From Toys—There will be plenty of Christmas, but not the stores last year.

Government and civilian production predicted only the barest handful of tricycles, metal wagons, etc.

After that, the OPA's chief, Gen.

Goodwin, head of the U. S. Enployment Service said, "There

we are, but we have not yet seen the stores."

Now, the stores have now 3,889,000,000 announced, a

lensed. (They will need jobs.)

The new auto sales figure shows

the future flood of new autos has caused the first surge in demand for many government, commercial, and business men who have had to wait for their cars.

But the OPA has announced a price formula by which manufacturers can figure their own

prices. (OPA Chief Chester Bowles

Army's Point Score May Be Cut to 72

Washington, Aug. 28.—(P)—The Army's plans for liberalizing its point system, which General MacArthur tells us he does not need any more combat points, will be considered by the Board of Military committee today.

All points will be computed. At present points are figured on a May 1, 1943, basis. All men with 80 points or more will be eligible. The present figure is 85 points.

Meantime, the dropping of wartime controls by the Agriculture Department lifted its restrictions on the production of chickens for American dinner tables will be available "very soon," according to the leading poultry firm and all indications point to a surplus in the market.

The WPD began allowing firms to stock up on certain materials to meet the demand for aluminum, cork, sand, grave, and pipe fittings, because those things were in short supply. But controls will be kept on building up stocks of meat, which may be at $1 or near $1.

"Accordingly, men overseas will now be eligible for immediate discharge if they have 72 points or more," says OPA.
